Program Coordinator: D. Hudson

The major in Biblical Studies prepares students to enter theological seminaries or graduate schools of religion and philosophy in preparation for careers in the pastoral ministry, teaching, mission, or social work. Many graduates also enter fields of law, business, the social sciences, and education.

The minors in Biblical Studies and Religious Studies are an excellent supplemental program enhancing many other majors. It enables students to pursue advanced biblical and theological study and thereby integrate faith into their chosen field of interest.
