

Quarterly Report for September 30, 2023

Posted October 10, 2023

King University has signed and returned the Certification and Agreement form to the Department of Education and has provided students with a portion of the funds received under the American Rescue Plan (ARP) of the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund III (HEERF III). The funds were awarded and student refund checks were mailed to King University students under the guidelines that were in place at that time. Cumulatively for HEERF I, HEERF II, and HEERF III we have received $3,782,818 in funding and have awarded the full $3,782.818 in refunds to students.

King University also received an Institutional share under the HEERF III Act to help itself with the additional costs related to the impacts of the Coronavirus. This amount was $1,923,285. Cumulatively for HEERF I, HEERF II, and HEERF III we have received $4,509,514 in institutional funding.

The guidelines in place dictated that for a student to receive these funds, they must have exceptional needs. See the guidelines on this website, HTTPS://STUDENTAID.GOV/UNDERSTAND-AID/ELIGIBILITY/REQUIREMENTS.

These Emergency Grant funds were disbursed based on students having the greatest need as required by the Department of Education. Calculations were based on the student's Estimated Family Contribution (EFC) from the 2022-2023 FAFSA and a student's enrollment status (fulltime or part-time). These funds could be used for any component of a student's cost of attendance or any emergency costs that arise due to COVID-19. The amounts for students ranged from $205 to $1,025.

The University's HEERF III disbursement plan aligns with the US Department of Education guidance for how the funds should be distributed that were in place at the time student awards were made. The student share of the Higher Education Emergency Relief Funding must be used for student expenses due to COVID-19.
